The shake-up of the regular line-up, however, it may be safely stated, is calculated to contribute 10 per cent to the aggressiveness of the team and accelerate the speed of the backfield. The offensive workout, the afternoon evidenced the contemplated improvement of the squad that will face Virginia.

The dissatisfaction following the uotcome

In keeping with the prophesy of "Doggle" Trenchard after the Vanderbilt contest that in all probability the eleven that faced Georgia and Vanderbilt would not be the team that would battle with Virginia, the shakeup this afterneon was not surprising. The move was unavoldable, since many of the

Roy Homewood and Wright, who have figured at ends in the season's games, were not in practice this afternoon. Hopes are bright for Homewood returning to his old form, but the case of Wright seems hope-tiess, his finjury being in the nature of a fractured shoulder.

JACK ALLEN TAKES BAILEY'S PLACE ON CORNELL'S ELEVEN PLACE ON CORNELL'S ELEVEN
ITHACA, November 10.—The baseball cage proved a boon to the Cornell football players this afternoon, as they were able to carry on a scrimmage long after dark. The entire varsity team was in the line-up, and it was significant that Jake Allen had Balley's place at right tackle. Jewett and Fisher played on the second team. If Allen's work continues as it has in the last few days, he seems sure of the position in the Michigan game. As a result of a two days' rest the regulars reported in good condition, and the coaches will take good care this week to keep them in first-class shape. Kleinert rejoined the squad this afternoon and worked out well, but was not allowed to enter the scrimmage.

The Academy sprung a surprise last Wednesday, when they defeated McGuire's, and now have a chance for second place in the league if they win to-day's game. MATHEWSON TELLS ABOUT SIGNING WITH ATHLETICS

Connie Mack Once Signed the Unknown College Twirler and Advanced. Him $50 to Pay Bills.

College Twirler and Advanced.

Not many will remember that Matty was once a member of the Athletics club for a minute. How he signed with Coshie Mack and later unsigned he explains himself in the special Mathewson number of the Baseball Magazine, the December Issue:

"I don't believe Mack had been much impressed by my baseball record, but he was always anxious to get college players, and he had heard of my football ability. After some correspondence he offered me $1,200, or $1,500 a season (I forget exactly which), and thereby took a great weight off my mind. I wrote to Mr. Mack telling him that as I was going to college, I could play only part of the season, but that if he would guarantee to give me $100 for the summer vacation, during which I was free, I would come. He assented to this, and as I thought fortune was certainly doing the proper thing by me, I might as well make hay while the sun shone. I told him I thought to thave $50 in advance, I owed some money for books and a few other items, and wanted to get square with the world. This was a big demand I knew, but I didn't know but that he might fall for it, and I thought in any case I would make a try. Later I reproached myself for not asking for more, as he hadvanced the money without comment.
